How it works

Event Management

A user-friendly system that allows users to add and edit your own events, manage capacity, release select tickets early for family or home fans, view event sales in real time, download financial statements, and more

Fans Buy Online

Post your events and send your fans direct links to buy online. Fans show their phone at the gate and redeem their ticket with a simple click of a button – no equipment required. Ticketholders can easily share tickets with friends or family with just a text or email. No more lost tickets, pass backs, and complicated cash management procedures.
