Thank You to Our Corporate Partners...

Corporate involvement is vital for most non-profit organizations and the NMAA is no exception. Our corporate partners help support the NMAA and the 88,000 students participating in 14 sports and 24 activities each school year. By participating in education-based athletics and activities, these young people are learning life skills that cannot be taught in the classroom, such as self-discipline, sportsmanship, time management and teamwork. These skills will help our youth become more well-rounded adults who, in turn, will be productive employees and more responsible citizens. When companies invest in high school athletics and activities, they invest not only in New Mexico high schools, but also in the communities in which our students reside. On behalf of the NMAA's over 160 member high schools, more than 200 middle schools, their coaches and administrators, and the thousands of students who participate in athletics and activities, we want to thank all of our corporate partners.

2024-25 State Champions

Every high school sports season ends with the crowning of a champion. Although the journey has never been easy, and is becoming more difficult every year, the NMAA does all it can to ensure that every team and student-athlete has a fair and equal opportunity to compete for a state championship and coveted BLUE TROPHY.

We congratulate all 82 state champions from the 2024-25 school year. We also want to take this opportunity to recognize those teams and individuals that won district titles; set a state, school, or personal record; hoisted a state championship trophy for the first time in school history or had their best season ever.

More importantly, we salute those student-athletes for their time, dedication, and courage to compete not only for themselves but their schools, teammates and communities. In the end, they are all winners.

2024-25 Activities

Interscholastic activities are an extension of the classroom. The NMAA encourages students to participate in as many activities as possible during their years in school. In 2024-25, the NMAA offered 24 different activities that served as a complement to the academic journey of students. We realize the importance of keeping students engaged during their interscholastic experience, and the activity offerings of the Association are diverse and wide-reaching. The goal of the NMAA is to ensure that the needs and interests of students in our membership are met through a variety of offerings in activities and athletics.

NMAA Student Leadership Advisory Council

The New Mexico Activities Association Student Leadership Advisory Council is comprised of students representing the NMAA's member high schools from all regions of the State. The NMAA's SLAC gives high school students a hands-on experience with the Association and provides them a direct line of communication to the staff. In addition, the SLAC is a vehicle for the promotion of the Compete with Class initiative on a peer-to-peer level.

The SLAC meets twice yearly. Other functions of the SLAC include the development and maintenance of an NMAA Student Leadership Handbook, which is currently posted on the NMAA website; as well as assisting with the creation of public service announcements addressing the core values of Compete with Class, which will be utilized during NMAA State Championship events. In addition, the SLAC will assist the NMAA with the promotion of the Association and its events through social media outlets and other mechanisms.

The SLAC is the voice of students from their respective regions within the NMAA governance structure and its members will offer input and suggestions to NMAA staff relative to current issues facing students. The SLAC promotes a positive image of students participating in interscholastic competitions and assists in the development of campaigns to promote Compete with Class, Life of an Athlete, and other NMAA and NMAA-related initiatives.
